

New Principal Is Man of Varied Accomplishments

William Ward, newly named as principal of Lake Orion High School to succeed J. Leslie Owen for the 1953-54 school term, is reported to be a versatile young gentleman of many interests and diversified talents, very popular alike with students, his fellow teachers, and parents in the communities where he has served the school systems.

He has been at Grand Haven high school for the past three years, where, in addition to being a popular teacher, he has won a community-wide reputation as a counsellor and as a sparkplug of many extracurricular school activities as well. He is organizer of that school's noted tumbling team; but his athletic interests do not stop there, as he also serves as assistant football coach and golf instructor. Ward has done outstanding work in the school workshops at Grand Haven, educational leaders there report.

Previous to his assignment at Grand Haven, Lake Orion's new principal was a teacher at the Whitehall, Mich., high school where he was the football coach and supervised a highly successful School Fair.

During World War II, he served two years in the navy and is now assigned to the Inactive Naval Reserve.

The University of Michigan conferred the Master's degree on Ward in 1951, in School Administration. His undergraduate studies were completed at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant, where he majored in mathematics and chemistry before receiving his secondary permanent certificate and his Bachelor of Science degree.
